

HARMONY RESTORED

REPUBLICAN FACTIONS HAVE GOT TOGETHER AND FORMER CORDIAL RELATIONS ARE RESTORED—NEXT WEDNESDAY NIGHT WILL SEE THE NATIONAL COMMITTEEMAN AND THE ADMINISTRATION ON THE SAME PLATFORM.

Harmony is restored in Republican ranks. The meeting next Wednesday at which Col. Hepburn is to speak is, in fact, to be an open manifestation of the fact that "former cordial relations" have been restored. Besides being an opportunity to listen to one of the leading orators of Congress, it is to be a Republican love feast, at which Clives and regulars are supposed to dwell together in brotherly love. A. G. M. Robertson is to be on the platform together with "the administration," as represented by Acting Governor A. L. C. Atkinson, who has always come out as a strenuous Carter man, and Attorney General Lorrin Andrews, chairman of the county committee, is in charge of the meeting. The Republican split has been healed, and the meeting is to sound the party's call to arms for the next campaign.

"We shall sound the tocsin,—that's the proper word isn't it,—for the campaign for delegate to Congress next time," said Attorney General Andrews, "and show that the party is united. Republican reunion is a fact, and the meeting will show our unity under the party banner."

Hepburn will speak on the issues of the Republican party. Not since Senator John M. Thurston delivered his notable address at the Orpheum has Honolulu had a chance to listen to an orator of national prominence in the political field. Congressman Hepburn is one of the best orators in the country, and his address will be quite an event. He is to speak at 7:30 and arrangements have been made for a concert by the Ellis quartette from 7 o'clock. Seats in the front of the house will be reserved for gentlemen who are accompanied by ladies. Special invitations are to be sent to officials residing here, but a general invitation is extended to all the public.

WORK COMMENCES ON ALAKEA DOCK

CONTRACTORS' NEW DREDGE DOES SPLENDID WORK IN BRINGING BLACK SAND AND CORAL TO THE SURFACE—COMPLETE EQUIPMENT FOR HANDLING A DIFFICULT CONTRACT HAS NOW BEEN INSTALLED AND IS IN EFFECTIVE OPERATION.

A moist but wholly interested crowd watched the beginning of the dredging operations this morning by Lord & Belser's new machine on the site of what is to be the Alakea street dock. Although not ready in every detail to begin the work, the preparations had so far advanced that the powerful new dredger was able to commence operations and a regular "warming up" of the machinery was indulged in.

The huge machine, installed on the scow specially built for its reception close up to the line of the dock. A line of rails had been laid along the Waikiki side of the gap where the wharf had been cut away and a train of cars was backed up on this. Promptly at 9:30 the monster dipper rattled down through its boom and splashed into the murky waters of the harbor emerging a few seconds later piled high with black sand almost as hard as stone. The dipper swung over, hovered a moment above the rear car and dumped its load with machine-like precision square in the center of the car. The load was eagerly examined by those most interested and much satisfaction was expressed over the nature of the soil brought up.

E. J. Lord, J. J. Belser and W. H. Hoogs, who with J. Hastings Howland, assistant superintendent of public works were watching the operations declared their complete satisfaction with the preliminary performances of the machine and are convinced that it will be able to do all that is expected of it.

The dredge is the biggest this side of the Mississippi river. It was ordered by Lord & Belser especially for the work on the Alakea street slip but will of course be utilized on other works here in Hawaii. It was built by the Marion Steam Shovel Company of Marion, Ohio and represents everything that is new in machinery of its kind. The local men are having a few quiet smiles over what they will have to show the San Francisco men who are shortly to arrive for the purpose of figuring on Federal work. They will find here a piece of machinery which cannot be matched on the Pacific coast.

The dredge is at present in charge of E. E. Schooley, an expert sent by the manufacturers to handle the machine. The manner in which the ponderous dipper with its huge load of debris responds to the slightest touch of the lever under the expert's hand is well calculated to arouse wonder. The engine which supplies the power is of 150 horsepower, the steel dipper weighs 10,650 pounds, the dipper handle weighs

Genevieve Dowsett Is a Heroine

SHE SAVES PRENTISS GRAY, THE FAMOUS GUARD OF THE UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA FROM DROWNING IN THE NOYO RIVER, AND THE CHRONICLE SAYS SHE IS THE HEROINE OF THE HOUR IN SOCIAL CIRCLES.

The Chronicle of July 1 says:

The heroine of the hour in social circles in this city just now is Miss Genevieve Dowsett of Honolulu, the beautiful sister of Mrs. Frederick Knight, whose guest she is here. Miss Dowsett has won for herself a reputation for bravery and presence of mind such as might be envied by any one, but she bears her honors with becoming modesty and is disposed to make light of her own courage in the matter. She was last week the guest of the George Grays of Oakland at their country place at Noyo, Mendocino country, and one morning went rowing on the Noyo river with young Prentiss Gray, who achieved considerable fame as left guard on the University of California football team in 1904.

Miss Dowsett was in the bow of the boat and some slight jar resulted in her falling overboard. Gray leaped at once to her rescue, although, as was proved by subsequent events, Miss Dowsett is a remarkably strong and confident swimmer. As he jumped overboard, Gray, in some manner, became unconscious; whether he struck his head on a submerged pile or on the oar, or what was the reason is not known, but as he rose Miss Dowsett saw his condition. She manifested a remarkable presence of mind, for, as soon as she grasped the situation, she swam to the young man, seized him firmly and kept him above water until she could receive aid. Gray's sisters and Al Coogan, a fraternity brother, were on the shore, and were greatly alarmed by the occurrence—so much so, in fact that Miss Gray fainted. Coogan started to jump into the water also to relieve Miss Dowsett of her unconscious burden, but she (with the calmness which characterized her actions throughout, called to him to get a boat, as he would otherwise be unable to do any good. Mr. Coogan, in his haste, jumped into a boat which was tied firmly to the landing, but soon discovered his mistake, and rowed to where Miss Dowsett and Gray had drifted some distance down the stream. Gray was a heavy burden to attempt to lift into the boat, and in their efforts they nearly caused the boat to capsize. They finally got him to the shore, but he was unconscious for some hours, and the greatest alarm was felt as to his condition. He has since entirely recovered and is now feeling no ill effects from his accident.

Gray is the football player who went through the great game last November with two broken ribs and a foot in which he had had blood poisoning for two days; but a great was his desire to fill his place on the team that he played during the first half in spite of the excruciating agony he suffered. The result was so serious that it was feared for some time that amputation of the foot would be necessary. Miss Dowsett is a Honolulu girl and has been visiting here for some months past, during which time she has made many friends and has been extensively entertained.

SEVENTY-EIGHT YEARS SINCE

TOMORROW MARKS THE ANNIVERSARY OF THE LANDING OF FATHER BACHELOT.

Seventy-eight years ago tomorrow Father Bachelot landed in Hawaii and founded the first Roman Catholic mission in these islands. It is a far cry back to the year 1827 in the light of human achievement during the intervening years and it is hard for the man who walks the streets of Honolulu today to realize just how the straggling grass built village looked in those days but there remains a mute but eloquent testimony to the devoted priest in the little monument behind the Catholic church, which marks the spot where the first church stood.

There were no special services today to mark the landing of the first Catholic mission but every good Catholic remembered the day with becoming pride. Ten years after his first coming Father Bachelot imported the first algeroba tree, the tree which still stands just mauka of the church and spreads its unbragging branches over Fort Street. The tree itself preaches a strong sermon and a close parallel might be drawn between the faith imported by Father Bachelot and the algeroba itself. Both have spread over the islands in a manner which cannot fail to be remarked by the least observing. The good Father Bachelot is among the silent majority today but his works live after him in these fair islands of Hawaii. He died at sea and is buried in Ascension Island in the Atlantic.

HAWAII COUNTY

The Supervisors of the county of Hawaii met for organization of county business on the morning of July 1, in Fireman's hall, Hilo, J. T. Moir was elected chairman. The bonds of county officers were approved, and the board passed a resolution providing that the police officers in office under the Territory should remain in office during the month of July. The resolution was passed by Sheriff Keolanui and his attorney, C. M. Le Blond attempted to have an argument on the proposition but was not allowed to do so. The resolution passed by four to three.

PROBABLY TAKES NEXT MAIL.

There is considerable confusion over the possibility of the Bennington, S. S. Argyle or transport Sherman reaching the mainland with mail ahead of the S. S. Coptic. It is likely, however, that the Coptic leaving Honolulu July 13 will get mail to San Francisco ahead of mail sent by any other vessel.
